St. George's Church In Laguna Hills Breaks Ground Sunday

Ground breaking for the mission-style church for the congregation of St. George's Episcopal Church - El Toro and Laguna Hills will take place this Sunday.

The ground breaking ceremony and service will have the Rev. F. C. Bellis, Dean of the Episcopal Convocation of Long Beach, representing the Bishop and The R. Rev. Francis Eric Bloy jointly breaking ground and reading the prayers for the service.

Rev. Frederick C. Hammond, vicar of the Mission, cordially invites the public to join with the members for this occasion. A public reception will follow the service in the banquet room of Manning's Restaurant.

The main church building, which features a 52 foot high bell tower, will seat 300 worshipers and will include a large multi-purpose room. A separate administration and classroom building will also be constructing containing eight classrooms.

Rev. Hammond stated the new church will stand on a 3½ acre site at Carlotta, Valencia and the El Toro off-ramp of the San Diego Freeway.

The land was purchased from the Rossmoor Corp. at a price "considerably below market value," Rev. Hammond said. Church building notes will finance the $350,000 project, expected to be completed by late January, 1969.

St. George's Episcopal Church currently conducts service in the 76-year old St. George's Mission in El Toro.

Rev. Lange Returns To Church

The Reverend Robert H. Lange of Mount of Olives Lutheran Church will return to the pulpit Sunday, August 4th. Holy Communion will be celebrated.

The Reverend Arthur Knudten of Leisure World conducted services during July while Pastor Lange and his family were on vacation. The community is cordially invited to attend services at either 8:30 or 11:00 a.m. Child care is available.

EDITORIAL:

Bremer, Collins Face Challenge At Saddleback

Congratulations to the Board of Trustees of the Saddleback Junior College District on their recent appointment of Dr. Fred H. Bremer as the new superintendent of the College district.

Bremer has served the College district during the past year as Dean of Instruction and is an excellent choice for the superintendency. He has a long list of successes as a junior college administrator and is thoroughly qualified for the job.

We will miss Jack S. Roper. But since he chose to leave we are delighted with the Bremer appointment. We also want to wish Roper the best as he continues his work in education with the County Offices of Schools.

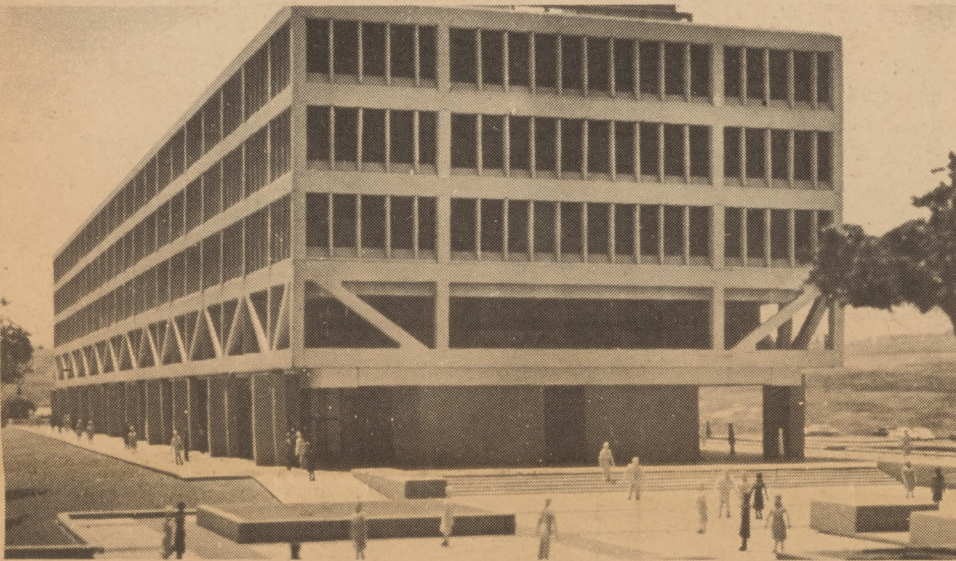

We were also pleased to see the appointment of Mike Collins, of Laguna Hills, as the new president of the Board of Trustees. Hans Vogel, of Tustin, just finished the first year as the board's first president. Vogel did a terrific job of getting the JC district off to a good start. The Collins appointment will assure the district of moving ahead as needed.

Bremer and Collins should make a good team on producing some educational leadership.

Things are rolling with the Saddleback JC District. A public hearing and final adoption of the 1968-69 budget for the district has been scheduled by the Board for 7:34 p. m., August 5th.

The proposed budget showing an undistributed reserve of $228,206 was approved on July 22 by the board. The reserve was increased $27,000 with secured common property assessed valuation reported by the county to be about $23 million higher than projected.

All this is most encouraging and means the Saddleback JC District should keep right on moving ahead.

UCI MEDICAL SCHOOL — The University of California board of regents has approved the architects' schematic design model for a medical sciences building at the UC Irvine campus, to be completed in 1972. The five-story, $14-million structure will accommodate more than 250 medical students and 100 medical faculty of the California College of Medicine.

Old-Timer Rides Again, Urges Safety

Ey McKay Mitchell
Staff Columnist

This is still a farming community despite the housing boom and population explosion. The 4-H and Future Farmers from Mission Viejo High School demonstrations and animal exhibits at the Orange County Fair were very professional.

The slogan for National Farm Safety Week is "Keep Your Guard UP", which emphasizes the importance of isolating hazardous parts of farm machinery from accidental contact by operators. In addition to the "guarding" of machinery, it is essential that a "safety awareness" be developed. Such awareness and development of good safety attitudes will help to perform the job in a safe manner. California farmers and farm workers' efforts to reduce accidents have resulted in a 10 percent reduction in lost-time injuries over the last five years.

To help in the safety education of farm workers, the California Division of Industrial Safety has prepared a number of publications which are free for the asking. These concern safety in crop spraying, use of pesticides, farm ladders, overhead power lines, hazards of LP-Gas and ammonia, and a farm safety check list.

El Toro Postmaster Announces Local Service Cut-Backs

BULLETIN

Because of a postponement of the Congressional mandate to cut back Federal employment of the Postal Service, mail service in this area will remain normal, according to El Toro Postmaster Changala.

The local postal head has been advised by Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson to comply with the cutback required by Congress under the recently-enacted tax bill (Public Law 90-364) by reducing some postal services and curtailing new hiring.

Curtailments as follows will take effect locally:

+ Effective July 27, all regular Saturday window service will be discontinued.

+ Effective July 27, Saturday collection of mail from street deposit boxes will be adjusted to conform to the generally less-frequent Sunday collection schedules.

Postmaster Changala also noted that beginning July 1 all planned extensions of city and rural delivery would have been curtailed. At this time there are no plans to provide mail delivery service to new housing subdivisions and apartment projects.

"This is not a matter of dollars but of people," Postmaster General Watson explained. "Under the manpower restrictions imposed by the tax bill, we simply will not have enough people to continue all postal services at their present level."

Postmaster Changala emphasized that the Post Office Department agreed to the reductions in funds for the 1969 fiscal year that began July 1, and is not asking for a restoration of any money cut from its budget.

"The Postmaster General," the local postal head explained, "told us we could operate within our budget and maintain postal services at or near their present level if we did not have to reduce employment to the June 1966 level."

Mrs. Changala noted also that she has been directed to submit her plans by September 1 regarding her proposals on how and when Saturday delivery on city residential routes should be handled locally.

An effective date for the elimination of Saturday residential delivery here and nationally is then expected to be established by the Department, the Postmaster explained.

The exact total out of the overall employment cut that will apply locally is not yet known, and it will be effected to some extent by the rapidity of job turnover in the local staff in the months immediately ahead.

However, the Postmaster said she expects the cut to be serious.

JC Seat Tax Defated; Vogel Sees OCC-SC War Not Over Yet

A State Senate committee defeated prospects of an amendment to the so-called seat tax this session, but the issue may not be dead.

In light of the many attempts to amend the law that forbids Saddleback College from paying a "seat tax," Hans W. Vogel of the Saddleback Board of Trustees indicated the legislative battle was not over.

He made this conjecture following an 8-1 defeat of an amendment presented to the Local Government Committee of the Senate Monday (July 22).

Reporting on the Senate committee's action, Vogel said the bill is dead this session but the proponents of an amendment have until November, 1969, and it is reasonable to expect other legislative attempts.

The amendment, presented by Assemblyman Kenneth Cory (69th District-D) of Anaheim, at the urgings of Orange Coast District, sought to set a seat tax of $150 for each Saddleback student attending a junior college in another district. Current law forbids Saddleback, as a new college, from paying the seat tax for the first three years. The seat tax, to be used for capital outlay, is in addition to the average $700 "education fee" paid by Saddleback for each of its students attending another junior college.

Assemblyman Cory's proposed amendment was approved by the Assembly following several committee hearings, revisions of the proposal, and two calls for a vote in the lower governing body. It was then forwarded to the Senate committee.

Saddleback JC Superintendent Jack S. Roper represented the college at the Senate hearing. The California

Orange County Soap Box Derby Race Held On Irvine Ranch

Nearly 100 eager soap box races zoomed down a 1,000 foot hillside course last Sunday, July 28 in competition for the Orange County Soap Box Derby Championships on the Irvine Ranch.

Jointly sponsored by the Santa Ana Elks Lodge and the Orange County Chevrolet dealers, race activities began with inspection and weighing-in of the cars at the Peters Canyon track. Each car, including the weight of its driver could not exceed 250 pounds.

Junior College Association and California School Boards Association were in opposition to the amendment.

Ironically, Senator Albert Rodda (D-Sacramento), author of the bill currently forbidding the payment of the seat tax, was the only committeeman to vote in favor of the amendment.

The race was preceded by a parade starting at Sears in South Santa Ana. Participants were taken from the parade to the track in cars donated by the California Corvette Club. David Canary, "Bonanza" television star, was the grand marshal of the parade, and Marcia Bennett, former Miss Orange County and currently Maid of California served as honorary Soap Box Derby Queen.

On race day, boys and their cars were grouped by age for a series of run-offs, which determined the eventual winner.

The Orange County winner received a $500 Savings Bond, a trophy and a crack at the All-American Soap Box Derby Championships in Akron, Ohio, August 24. The winner and his parents will spend a week at "Derby City" participating in pre-race activities.

Meet Your Neighbor

Bob Fowler, "Mr. X's" Partner In Business

By Dan Wooldridge
News Editor

Native Californian Robert Fowler has recently joined the local business community by opening the Fox Building Materials in El Toro.

Fowler has lived in Orange County for 15 years and recently moved to Mission Viejo. After the Fowler's moved, Bob went looking for some building materials and discovered "great difficulty in finding the needed materials."

After a few family conferences Fowler and his son-in-law Norman Olson of Mission Viejo decided to go into the building materials business.

When asked about the name Fox for the business, Fowler laughed and explained that the F is for Fowler, the O is for Olson, and the X is for MR. X. According to Fowler, when the business was being developed they decided to let people believe they had a silent partner. Mr. X is their silent partner that does not really exist.

The Fowler's live at 25235 Pericia in the La Paz homes of Mission Viejo. Bob belongs to the Elks Lodge of Santa Ana.

Bob Fowler has been handling the Fox Building Materials alone during the week with Norman Olson working on week-ends, but starting this week Olson will be joining the company full time.

Fox has an inventory of nearly $10,000 in the building materials line. Much of the stock is in small lots with large orders brought directly from the factory.

The straw-hat wearing Fowler explained Fox is the only building materials company in the area that does not charge for delivery. According to Fowler a small order would normally charge $5-7 for delivery, but Fox will deliver free.

Fox carries a full selection of blocks, bricks, cement, plaster and Mexican pots for the convenience of their customers. The Mexican pots are from Tecate, Mexico and Fox carries between 18-20 different styles of pots and at bargain prices.

El Toro's newest business is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily and is located at 25101 E. Front St. According to Mr. Bob Fowler, the Fox Building Materials Company "primarily caters to the do-it-yourself group and week-end workers."

Kiwanis Hear YWCA Director Give Youth View; Generation Gap Real

By Carl E. Venstrom

Mary Jane Mann, Director of the Orange YWCA, spoke to the Kiwanis Club of Mission Viejo last week on "Why Boys and Girls are the Way They are Today."

Miss Mann pointed out to members of the service club that the Orange YWCA serves the greater El Toro-Mission Viejo area. She has been director of the Orange YWCA for the past ten years.

"Youth says the world is changing and that parents must understand this. If parents don't understand this change," said Miss Mann, "there is a generation gap."

"Often adults — such as policemen — accuse youngsters through association," she said.

Miss Mann said that there are three types of youngsters: (1) nice kids who are not concerned with our social issues of the time. These are the majority of the youngsters in our society.

The second type of youngster is the involved youngster (you hear a lot about this type) who are the extreme liberals or extreme conservatives or the youngsters "who are just involved."

"The third type of youngster," reported Miss Mann, "is the true hippy — the one who has dropped out of society," reported Miss Mann.

"The reason for this youngster's revolt," said Miss Mann, "is that we have come to an end of an urban society and to the end of a puritanical Society."

She said youngsters today do not feel significant since they do not have enough to do, not enough work, and are not given enough responsibility.

The YWCA director pointed out to the breakfast group "that the problems of our society are very complex, and this helps create the generation gap."

"Answers are no longer easy — they are no longer black or white."

Miss Mann also touched on the "medium explosion" — TV, radio, and record playing which exposes youngsters to many things previous generations have not been exposed to.

"But the hope," she said, "is that these youngsters are looking for friends."
